This week, we started our Computing unit where we used the computer programme Scratch to create quizzes.

In maths, we continued our topic in decimals, and learnt new strategies in adding and subtracting decimals with different numbers of decimal places.

In English, we referred back to previous persuasive writing and applying these skills to a letter in role as Isambard Brunel.

In PSHRE, after half term, we will be completing our Changing Me unit in which we will be looking at transitions

After half term, we will kick off Summer 2 with our Geography unit: The UK. Here, we will travel across England, Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland to explore our United Kingdoms.

In maths, we will start our new topic of negative numbers.

In English, we will be starting our non-fiction unit on balanced arguments. We will look at the different features of arguments and explore the terms 'for' or 'against'. We will then work on our skills in order to write our own!

We all took part in a draw along with Miss Cowcher in our assembly this morning.
